ISEA is currently offering a “Literature of the Sea” Schoolship Program based on classic seafaring novels. This half-day program is designed for 8th -12th grade students and aims to inspire an interest in nautical literature and encourage students to read maritime novels on their own.

Aboard the schooner Inland Seas, students will read and discuss excerpts from seafaring novels and participate in navigation and seamanship activities such as raising the sails, steering the ship, and determining their position on the bay. ISEA’s “Literature of the Sea” Program can be modified to complement the curriculum of almost any literature course. For more information contact the ISEA office or visit our website.
